Rhesus incompatibilities, causes: Connections and healing possibilities, clarification in a spiritual point of view.

Every child has a soul plan. This soul plan is decided in full consciousness. This child decides to come into contact with the resistances of life. What do resistances of life mean?

What do life-threatening circumstances mean at the beginning of life? Because these rhesus children experience life-threatening circumstances at the beginning of their life. And THAT is their written soul plan, on the one hand.

On the other hand, it strengthens them a lot, they get a lot of energy. It is a more powerful resource for them that they form through this, and that will always support them, energetically. Through this experience, an energetic force is developed, a rhesus is developed, which helps this person to solve problems in his life, to approach problems differently. Also, it is people who always have a solution in mind, who find a solution, who do not give up until they find the solution.

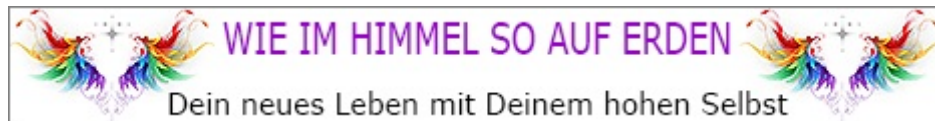

This has the disadvantage that an energy of toughness can make these people hard, tough. Because THAT is the energy behind it, that energy of persevering, of having to persevere. They had to persevere in order to survive. And depending on where and how they are in life, that can't always be easy.
